Curlers Commence Season's Activities

Members of the Curling Club were out in full force last Sunday with their paint pots and brushes, and as a result the curling ice now is ready for the final flooding and pebbling. The Curling Club executive informed "The Star-Chronicle" that curling will officially open on Thursday evening, Dec. 15th.

All skippers who have not completed their teams already, are asked to do so before Thursday night. Mr. L. W. Smith, Manager of the Bank of Montreal, will again act as chairman of the draw committee.

At the Friday night meeting a motion was passed making all skippers responsible for the fees of members of their rinks. The Curling Club have had considerable expense already this season, installing water and sewer facilities in the Club House, and it is requested that skippers pay their fees at the earliest possible moment.

The "Curlers Dance" held on Tuesday evening, Dec. 6th, was a success financially and socially. The Club executives are anxious to thank all those who assisted, especially the ladies who arranged the lunch, and the "boys" of the "All Stars Orchestra", who donated their services and played some very fine music.

Mr. Pound was a member of the Wainwright and Armer churches. Rev. Groves officiated at the service held at Ribstone.

O. E. S. Annual Ball Is Huge Success

The Connaught Chapter No. 1, Order of the Eastern Star, held their Second Annual Ball, in the Masonic Hall on Wednesday, November 30th. The hall was converted by Mrs. H. E. Buckle, who had the hall decorated in traditional "Eastern Star" colors. Some 40 couples were present.

Mrs. L. A. Mygland, Mrs. H. C. Wallace and Mrs. F. Lepper, received at the door, and presented each lady with a corsage of carnations and baby mums upon entering.

Dancing, which included some old time numbers, was to the music of the band, and continued until midnight at which time the guests enjoyed a delicious lunch, prepared by a committee of Eastern Star members, convoked by Mrs. J. Davidson.

During the lunch intermission a door prize was drawn, and several other prizes were presented during the dancing which continued until 2 a.m.

Notice

Owing to the small attendance and apparent lack of interest in Red Cross activities, the Annual Meeting of the Wainwright Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society, which was called on Monday evening 5th December, 1949, failed to elect officers for the ensuing year. A postponed meeting for the purpose of electing officers is called for Monday, December 19th at 8 p.m. in the Red Cross Rooms in the Post Office Building. Continuation of the Branch's activities in Wainwright will rest upon the attendance and interest shown at this postponed meeting and it is hoped there will be a good turnout.

P. M. C. To Be Popular Sports Centre

Community spirit and winter fun should centre around the P.M.C. arena this season if plans of the management are carried out.

Rolling skating as a family sport for all ages, with the slogan "The friendliest sport in the world" Friday night and Saturday afternoon Family Skating Night. The children skate until 8 p.m. and the adults continue until 10:30 p.m. Last year there were over 1000 skaters and it is hoped that this year will be even better.

A family ticket at Ryan and Mitchell's or Buckley's and everyone skates on Friday night especially.

Another feature of this year is pre-school skating from 3 to 4 o'clock on Wednesday and Friday when mother or dad can teach junior the fine points of the first and second steps.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd are well known in Wainwright.

New Life In Hockey Team Promises Interest

Wainwright Commandos Open Season Tonight

Tonight's the night of the big opening hockey game at the P.M.C. arena. The Commandos are going to take the Vegreville team in a game that should prove a real thriller. Neither of the teams have had much practice this year, but both of them will be on their toes to get off to a good scoring start. The Commandos have been reorganised and will be a much stronger setup than last year.

LIBRARY NOTES

New books for December, the busiest month of the year for most of us, have been added to the library.

A thick, imposing looking book is "The 13th Hour" by E. E. Schattschneider. It is a history of the world from the time of the first man to the present.

A warm and richly human story of life and love in New England of a generation ago is given us by Gladys Hasty Carroll in "West of the Hill". Guy Oliphant writes in his usual rollicking manner in relating the adventures of the walrus-moustached Chief Engineer of a tramp freighter in "The Cannery Men". A realistic novel of the American Revolutionary war in the Eastern States is "Drums Along the Mohawk" by Walter D. Evans.

"From The City, From The Plough" by Alexander Baron is the story of a battalion in the last war. Highly recommended for adult readers as a true war book.

The Library Association is sponsoring a Home Cooking Sale this Saturday, December 10, in Eddie's Food Market. Any donations will be gratefully received. And keep in mind that we are all humming a merry Christmas tune. It gives the recipient the opportunity of reading 24 books of his or her own choice, from the newest best sellers or old time favorites.

(Children's Section)

You may be asked the most popular request is for "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer". It's even better in book form than in the radio songs which are humming these Christmas days. Like the "Ugly Duckling" who turned into a beautiful swan, the unpoplar little reindeer makes Santa's sleigh possible with his spot-light nose.

"White" "Rudolph" is certainly this year's newest favorite, no family Christmas should be complete without at least the Tiny Tim story from Dickens' "Christmas Carol". Most of our older boys and girls will think of Lionel Barrymore as Scrooge, as we have heard him for several years over the radio. Now let the little members of your family share that brave wish of crippled Tiny-Tim as he calls "God Bless Us, Every One."

Another lovely Christmas classic is "The Other Wise Man". This story will bring you closer to the first Christmas in Bethlehem; we particularly want to remember the birth of Jesus this year when we may attend Church on his special day of celebration.

If you're going to have just the best Christmas party ever, you'll be glad to read the new "Party Book" which has so many suggestions for games, favors—even the all important "cass". This is good for any party time of the year, of course.

Whether you come looking for Christmas stories, ideas for parties or to look for one of our brand new books, the young men of the Wainwright Library will be glad to help you. Come Wednesday or Saturday afternoon at the Library.

ing, the members enjoyed a short social period. Mrs. Chynoweth presented a contest which was won by Mrs. Britney. We then sang Christmas carols, accompanied by Mrs. McTurk at the piano.

After the close of our business meeting.

GREENSHIELDS

Mr. Chas. Stewart was a tripper to Vermilion early last week.

Mr. W. S. White is enjoying driving his new Chev. truck, recently purchased from the Buffalo Garage, Wainwright.

Mrs. Rufus Carl entertained the members of Greenshield Ladies Aid for their last meeting of 1949, Thursday afternoon. Thirteen members and five visitors attended.

Reports of the year's activities were very gratifying and the usual contributions were voted to Wainwright Grace United Church, Missionary and M. fund, also a contribution to the British and Foreign Bible Society.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year—President, Mrs. Hugh Reid; Vice President, Mrs. Jack Spady; Sec.-Treas., Mrs. Bill Daniels; Fancy Work Convener, Mrs. Garney Murray. A very pretty Christmas tree was the centre of attraction following the business session and by number each lady drew a Mrs. Carl then served a very tasty lunch and our Christmas party was voted one of the best. We were especially glad to hear Mrs. W. C. Jackson present for she has been a hospital patient for some time.

We are sorry that Miss Mildred Reid has been away from school these days with chicken pox and hope she will soon be quite recovered.

HEATH F.W.U.A.

This regular meeting of the Heath F.W.U.A. was held on Dec. 8 at the home of Mrs. Mansfield. The meeting was opened by repeating the creed after which we sang "Silent Night".

We then had the roll call. There were seven members present.

The Secretary read the minutes of the previous meeting. It was moved by Mrs. F. B. Ford and seconded by Mrs. Britney that the minutes be adopted as read, Carried.

"The business rising out of the minutes was discussed and the following was decided:

The Joint meeting to hear the delegates report was discussed and lunch planned. Mrs. F. B. Ford, Mrs. McTurk and Mrs. Britney were to bring cakes; with Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Mansfield and Mrs. Murray bringing sandwiches. The absent members were to be asked to bring a lamp.

Moved by Mrs. Murray, seconded by Mrs. Britney, that the Secretary be appointed press reporter if agreeable to her. Carried.

The matter of a petition to the Hospital Board for the Municipality to pay three dollars for 10 days for each patient ordered by two doctors to an extension of a hospital was discussed. Moved by Mrs. McTurk, seconded by Mrs. Murray that we pay for these received and order a few more.

The report of the Battle River Board meeting of October 31st was read and discussed.

The film shown on Sex Education was discussed. Mrs. Patterson volunteered to get information from Mrs. Twenty to see if it would be possible to have the film shown in this locality after the new year. Also to see if there was a list of other films available from which to choose. Moved by Mrs. F. B. Ford, seconded by Mrs. McTurk that the information be secured and presented at the next meeting.

Moved by Mrs. Britney, seconded by Mrs. McTurk that the Secretary order some dozen programmes for the Christmas party to be given by Mrs. Mansfield.

The roll call and the place of our next meeting was discussed. Mrs. F. B. Ford invited us to her home. It was decided that the roll call would be answered by a winter poem unless programme books arrived in the meantime.

The subject of beginning work on articles for a banner for next year was discussed. The Secretary was instructed to send for embroidery work, print and yarn to be distributed at the next meeting. Moved by Mrs. Murray, seconded by Mrs. Britney, that the Secretary write to the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture urging them to give them a strong support to the motion. Carried.

A discussion followed on open skating for children on Saturday afternoons at the arena. Moved by Mrs. Mansfield seconded by Mrs. McTurk that the Secretary write to the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture urging them to give them a strong support to the motion. Carried.

Moved by Mrs. F. B. Ford that the meeting adjourn. The next meeting will be on the 19th.

After the close of our business meeting.

Everyone Invited To Come Dec. 14 and 15

Welcome One and All To Wainwright Days

Everyone is urged to get out tonight and give their home team some real support. We are looking forward to a big and successful season of hockey this year, and the support of everyone is needed if it is to go over well.

Santa is here! Yes, today and tomorrow are "Wainwright Days" and every kid in the country, and their parents, too, are invited to come and enjoy this little token of appreciation, extended by Wainwright merchants.

There'll be bags of candy and fruits for all the kids, and as a special attraction the show. "The Duke Goes West" will be shown both afternoons and evenings on both days at the Elite Theatre.

It's free folks, and it's good. So come to Wainwright for Wainwright Days, December 14 and 15.

Town Topics

Every one in a while each of us probably "considers whether or not he is crazy to live in a small town. We've all heard the expression "that's small town stuff" relating to things that are small and petty. "The Duke Goes West" has always been the butt of many jokes. We all know that city people feel very sorry for their country cousins and all the hardships they are put to put up with and I'm sure that each of us has at one time or another thought of chucking the free life of the country for the hustle and bustle of city life.

Whenever the writer feels such a mood come on all that is needed is a day or two in the city to demonstrate just how lucky we are out here in the country. A couple of days of bucking heavy traffic, trying to find a place to park, standing in line for meals or for any sort of entertainment, and take care not to leave easily movable valuable goods in the back of your truck.

HOWEVER there is one thing we must mention, and that is that Cpl. Pound has asked us to warn all and sundry that pilfering from parked cars from the back of trucks has been occurring of late. If you don't want to be the victim, it is suggested that you lock your car doors when you leave it, and take care not to leave easily movable valuable goods in the back of your truck.

IT IS EXPECTED that quite a few will take in the coyote shoot at Edgerton today. The Wainwright shoot has been postponed, so that the same hunters can take part in both.

ATTENDANCE at the school meeting on Monday evening was far from spectacular. Only a handful of people were present, which is indeed pretty disappointing when we consider the fact that a new school is well on its way to completion here.

AS WE'VE BEEN constantly warned, we are holding on to our dear lives by democracy by a slender thread, and such lack of interest will not make the thread any thicker.

WE MAY EXPECT that our privileges, unused, may atrophy—in fact they are already doing so.

OF COURSE, if we don't want them that's our privilege, but our guess is that we would form a different opinion of their value once they had been lost.

IT WAS REALLY ALMOST A disconcert to the people who had worked for the past year, and to those who at great pains prepared reports, that so few people felt it worth while turning out.

ONE THING—those who fail to get out to the annual meeting must forget all about saying that the affairs of the school are run by a clique. After all—if the clique didn't run them they simply wouldn't be run.

The first wealth is health.

It is unfortunate that so few Canadian authors are really appreciated and the great majority of the literature read in Canada is not only printed, but written across the border.

ANOTHER WORTHWHILE APPEAL

With the seemingly endless number of appeals made for various organizations engaged in humanitarian work, one is at times inclined to tighten up one's purse strings and give but a token donation. Each cause is honest, and each has its proponents and supporters who further its cause, but it is John Doe who has to cough up each time, and John can get a little weary of well-doing.

However, if we believe in anything beyond the most mundane of principles and the most worldly of ideas and ideals—if we can see beyond the most immediate present, and if we contemplate anything of the universal and eternal, we should be able to moderate our attitude somewhat to giving to those who need. Not only is it a Christian duty, but it is also a human requirement, that we who are more fortunate should give some assistance to those in need. We must try to overcome the feeling that when we have given a few dollars to a cause from which we cannot expect monetary return, we have not merely lost so much cash.

Latest organized appeal is the new drive for funds by the United Nations Children's Emergency Fund. This is the agency of the United Nations charged with the duty of helping children in want and distress in the regions ravaged by World War II or by post-war conflicts.

With funds made available by the United Nations, by various governments and by public subscription, UNICEF has been distributing food, clothing, medicines and other necessities among mothers and children in thirteen European countries and various parts of Asia. Particular emphasis has been laid on "protective foods" such as milk and fats, which are always in the shortest supply; in a number of countries UNICEF helps make possible the serving of one meal a day containing these foods to school children.

Another major project has been the immunization of children in the distressed area against tuberculosis, which is once more spreading because of malnutrition.

These good works are being handicapped by lack of money, and cannot continue beyond next June unless further contributions are obtained. Hence the present appeal. Canadians did very poorly in last year's campaign, and they certainly ought to give more generous support this time.

Contributions may be made through your bank, or direct to the local office, The United Nations Appeal for Children at Mill Creek School, Edmonton.

The man who rows a boat generally doesn't have time to rock it.

TAX RELIEF WANTED

Taxation for school purposes continues to be by far our largest burden. For instance in Chauvin Village school tax rate is 34 mills, while municipal tax is 17 mills; in the Town of Wainwright, school tax rate is 23 mills, with municipal and debenture at 21. Moreover, there is every reason to expect the school tax rate to go up rather than down, in order to cover the cost of the current building program and to keep pace with the increasing salaries of the teaching staffs.

We are inclined to agree with the Camrose Canadian, that the Alberta Government cannot turn a deaf ear to these pleas much longer and expect to remain in office. There is no just reason in this day and age of surplus revenues why real property should carry so much of the burden. An additional grant would do much to assist the ratepayers of this division in disposing of their debt in promptly and establishing themselves in a more secure position financially.

When the white men discovered this continent, the Indians were running it. There were no taxes. There was no national debt. The women did all the work. . . And the pale faces thought they could improve on a system like that.

CANADA TOO HAS HER PARTICULAR PROBLEM

United States may have its John L. Lewis, but Canada has the Dukhobors. John L. hasn't yet paraded in the nude but he might even try that to gain his point. This is his first strike when his miners are sore at him. They like their pay cheques around Christmas time, like most everybody else. They have no hope now of regaining their losses in earning through work stoppages. With the Dukhobors it's different. Why the authorities have tolerated their dildos this long is hard for us who have been made to toe the disciplinary mark to understand. These people have not been readily assimilated into Canadian life, but the remarkable situation that confronts the authorities is that most of the trouble-makers are now native born Canadians. . . all the more reason they should be made to conform to the laws of the land.

IRAN CURTAIN?

Joe Rutledge Says

By Joseph Lister Rutledge

PATH OF PATERNALISM

A short while ago Mr. Gardiner, Federal Minister of Agriculture, said in the House: "750,000 farmers working on the job can make a better average decision than any member of this House, including the Minister of Agriculture." It would be well if this very sound contentment had been more than a shrewd political gesture. It is extremely doubtful, however, that Mr. Gardiner meant to suggest that he would discontinue making contracts abroad, or suggesting what farmers should produce, or regulating methods of sale of their product, or establishing not always beneficial commitments. Probably all that Mr. Gardiner meant was that he didn't like the Opposition's arguing over his well-intentioned plans.

Not long before, the United States Congress had been asked to give the Administration absolute power to control the kind of crops and the amount of them that might be raised on American farms, and to determine whether land should be used for crops or pasture; all this in return for government farm subsidies.

Of course subsidies, whose purpose is to provide low prices for producers must be controlled if bankruptcy is not to be sure and immediate. Sir Stafford Cripps, reporting that Britain's farm subsidies next year would reach 24 million dollars, declared: "That cannot go on." He pointed out, what has not been disclosed elsewhere, that there is no miracle to permit subsidies to satisfy themselves. They must be paid by taxes, direct or indirect. Despite everything, Sir Stafford admitted, there would be a rise in prices with taxes remaining at the devastating level of 45% of the pay of the average worker. As the London Economist pointed out, no other people in history have paid such a percentage of their income in taxes and survived.

It might be argued that at least the farmer benefited. Known facts will not support such a belief. Before the Soviet leaders could collectivize the Russian farms they had first to dominate the mind and the spirit of the once-free Russian farmer. There is no way to stop the dominating process there. It must continue into all phases of processing and distributing if the initial project is not to fail. So collectivism must progress in steady relation to the decline in the social rights in which all free people have taken pride, until all are slaves.

No unshared benefit can accrue except at the cost of control of mind, will, action and property, delegated to the State. History records many instances where whole peoples were led astray by false promises of security. None has survived. All the security that man can hope to achieve is based on his willingness and ability to protect his birthright as a free man, and to accept the obligations, responsibilities, and even the minor disadvantages, that this birthright involves.

THE WEEK AT OTTAWA
by Canadian Press

One of the bitterest debates of the present session of Parliament raged back and forth across the Commons over the government handling of the controversial McGregor report of alleged price-fixing in the flour milling industry.

thing from ten to twenty-five dollars a day and up Myrtle might get attention in one of these "homes," such as teaching her to speak and all that sort of education, but she will not get the very best attention as a "charity" patient at $15.00 a month. Psychiatric and medical services are very expensive, usually beyond the means of ordinary working people like Arthur Darling. Only millionaires can afford to pay for them. The "charity" patients may serve for medical research purposes, for the eventual benefit of rich people who can afford to pay for the best. Disease strikes all classes and is no respecter of persons. Branding little Myrtle Darling, who is only three years old, as an "imbecile" as some people now are doing is very cruel, and unkind criticism of her dead mother is also very cruel. Read Matthew 5:22 which reads in part: "Whoever shall be angry with his brother without cause shall be in danger of the judgement, but who shall say 'Thou fool' shall be in danger of hell fire."

Would it not be better for all the people of Wainwright to pray for little Myrtle's recovery? Only God can heal and save.

MRS. ANN RICHARDSON.

The debate finally drew to a close with the Commons passing a bill designed to plug loopholes in the Combines Investigation Act.

The new anti-price-fixing legislation, is expected to get an early testing in the courts. A number of bakeries in British Columbia, Alberta, and Saskatchewan have been charged with conspiring to set uniformly high prices for oranges under the Combines Act. And Justice Minister Garson, who bore the brunt of opposition fire during the debate, said prosecution of bakeries in the three western provinces could be undertaken "right away".

Main provision of the new bill will throw upon directors of accused companies the onus of proving that they were not aware of the contents of incriminating letters and documents seized by government combines investigators from company records.

This burden of proof previously has fallen on the crown and Mr. Garson said unless this new provision was passed the government could never hope to win a combines case.

But the heat of the debate did not centre on the legislation under discussion, but rather on the McGregory report.

Nine Months Overdue
The four-month report was first presented to Mr. Garson last Dec. 28 and it was not made public until early this month, almost 10 months later.

Charges of law-breaking, concealment of reports and disregard for Parliament were hurled at the government during the long debate. The attack was climaxed when Angus MacInnis, C.C.P. member for Vancouver East, demanded Mr. Garson's resignation. He said Mr. Garson had no right to be in charge of enforcing a law which he had broken.

Explaining the delay in publication of the report, Mr. Garson said the cabinet had not agreed with the contents of it. The government had finally decided that the flour-milling companies should not be prosecuted, because what was described as price-fixing during the war resulted from the orders of a government agency—the Prices Board.

A Tale of Death
The grim, terrifying story of the Noronko disaster was retold in Ottawa recently.

It was told in the critical judicial report of Mr. Justice R. L. Kellock of the Supreme Court of Canada, made after a meticulous, searching inquiry into the cause of the fire that swept the luxury Great Lakes steamship while it was berthed at Toronto. The steamer claimed 118 lives, all but one of them from the United States.

The report of the inquiry, instigated by the transport department, contained stinging criticism where Mr. Justice Kellock felt it was due. And he made a number of sweeping recommendations designed to safeguard lives of passengers on other inland passenger ships.

Most of the report's criticism was directed straight at the ship's owners and the 64-year-old captain of the vessel.

In suspending for one year the sailing certificate of ruddy, weather-beaten Capt. William Taylor, Mr. Justice Kellock said the master of the ship had shown neither "resource nor initiative" in meeting the disaster.

His main criticism was that Capt.

Taylor should have organized and directed his crew both in making passengers and getting them off the ship and in fighting the holocaust. Instead, said Mr. Justice Kellock, the captain acted like "an ordinary sailor in such peril of the ship as he could reach" amid the flames.

The report said both the captain, his officers and the company were

LIQUID FERTILIZERS

Liquid fertilizers are now on the market in Canada for mixing with seed and sowing in the drill box. Care should be taken before purchasing one of these fertilizers to compare the price of available elements for plant food in comparison with our present solid type fertilizers. Liquid fertilizers cost much more when comparing the pounds of available element in each product.

ORDER REGISTERED SEED NOW

Pure seed is essential to a prosperous and permanent type of Agriculture, and to the success of all individuals engaged in the Production of Field Crops. Again this year the Alberta Crop Improvement Association is making registered seed available to all farmers through grain elevator agents and the Alberta Seed Growers Co-operation.

Registered seed is the purest and best seed available anywhere. It is marketed in sealed sacks, after having been carefully inspected as a growing crop and further inspected after being cleaned to a high standard and sealed in bags. The tag of the Canadian Seed Growers Association identifies each bag and indicates to the purchaser that he is buying pure seed with very few impurities.

Orders for registered seed should be placed early as supplies in the province are low.

HOW MUCH SPACE DO HENS NEED?

Most poultrymen realize that they need 4 to 5 square feet of floor space for every bird in the laying house. Heavy breeds take slightly more than light breeds, but other space requirements are needed besides floor space.

Poultry men at our Experimental stations have added this to the requirements.

Feeders: 24 feet of hopper space is needed for every hundred birds, or 2 3/8 inches per bird.

Roosters: Six to seven inches per bird. Heavy breeds need more space. Up to nine inches per bird in warm weather.

Waterers: One eight gallon waterer, or its equivalent per hundred birds. All these figures are minimums. Give your birds more if you wish, but never less.

FARMERS PROVE GOOD BORROWERS

The Annual Report of the Canadian Farm Loan Board for the year ended March 31, 1949 has just been issued. The Board is a Dominion Government agency making mortgage loans to farmers and has been in operation for over 20 years.

The report shows that during the year $4,815,400 was approved for loans. This is an increase of 42 per cent over the previous year and is the largest annual volume of business transacted by the Board in the last 13 years. Since 1935 the Board has lent over $45,000,000 to Canadian farmers and its current investment in farm mortgages exceeds $24,000,000. The general economic condition of the farming community is reflected in the fact that approximately 86 per cent of all first mortgage borrowers from the Board had no interest arrears at the end of the fiscal year. Interest arrears at March 31, 1949 equaled only 0.217 per cent of principal outstanding, being the lowest percentage of interest arrears to principal in the Board's history.

Board officials state that there is a noticeable trend toward larger farms particularly in the prairie provinces, and that over 1/3 of the money being borrowed is being used to buy farms or additional farm land. They also say that a good proportion of current borrowing is for the purchase of livestock and implements and to make farm improvements in contrast to the situation a few years ago when much of the money borrowed was used to pay accumulated debts.

The Board makes first mortgage loans up to $5,000 at 4 1/4 per cent repayable over a period up to 35 years.

C.N.R. WPOINTS NEW ALBERTA D.P.A.

P. A. Rooney has been appointed district passenger agent, Alberta territory, for the Canadian National Railways, with headquarters in Edmonton. He succeeds M. J. Dupuis who has retired. Mr. Rooney joined the company in 1914 in Winnipeg, and served in Winnipeg and Duluth until 1940 when he was transferred to Edmonton as city passenger agent.

SAVE THE STUBBLE

With the advent of the combine harvester, straw disposal has become more of a problem than it was under the old binder-thresher method of harvesting. This has led many farmers to the widespread practice of burning stubble in the autumn, a dangerous and wasteful method, which should be avoided wherever possible, says C. H. Anderson, Dominion Experimental Station, Beaverlodge, Alta.

A heavy accumulation of straw may cause an initial reduction in the formation of nitrates but after a few weeks these plant foods will be formed quite rapidly. If a crop is seeded on land where a heavy stubble has been worked into the soil, it might suffer from a lack of nitrates during the early stages of growth. A light application of ammonium phosphate fertilizer of high nitrogen content would overcome this.

The Board may make additional advances to bring the total loans up to $5,000 in certain circumstances. Loans are made to pay debts, buy livestock and equipment and farm lands, and to erect and repair buildings and make other farm improvements.

By D. M. MALLAN, M. Sc. Assistant Director, Line Elevator Farm Service, Wainwright, Manitoba.

Training for Citizenship

The Junior Farm Club program, by conspicuous achievement, has obtained a prominent position in Canadian agriculture. It has rendered a service to farm youth, and through them to the industry as a whole, that warrants recognition. Club work for rural youth is an important part of agricultural extension programs both in Canada and the United States. It is a voluntary educational movement designed to provide, through organized clubs, practical training in agriculture, homemaking and citizenship. It is not a substitute for formal education as provided in our schools, but rather an important supplement to it.

Objectives Achieved. By studying and demonstrating approved practices in agriculture and homemaking, club members have helped to raise the standard of farm production and to improve living conditions in the home. This in itself is quite an accomplishment but by no means the only measure of success. From the very beginning the youth program has sought to develop in the members a greater appreciation of good citizenship.

By working with others, by gaining experience in the art of self expression, by learning parliamentary procedure, by holding office and serving on committees, club members are developing initiative, tolerance and understanding. There are experience which prepare young people for greater service to the community.

Leadership Important. This program would not be possible without the devoted service of hundreds of voluntary adult leaders. These leaders have been the great driving force behind the success of the movement. With over a million farm youth of club age in Canada, and less than 50,000 enrolled in Clubs for the current year, there are still great opportunities for expansion and development.

Any organization which is developing in young people a greater appreciation of rural life and progressive agriculture, is performing a valuable function for the nation and deserves the support and goodwill of all.

The Line Elevator Companies, associated with this Department offer sincere congratulations to Provincial Extension Services, club leaders, and all others responsible for this program of basic training for citizenship.

Straw adds fibre to the soil and in the case of grey-wooded soils especially it tends to prevent baking or hardening of the soil. Straw increases the water holding capacity of such soils and improves aeration. Furthermore, the continued burning of stubble predisposes the soil to wind and water erosion.

Sometimes the disposal of surplus straw constitutes a problem. Care must be taken where crops are heavy to use a spreader on the combine to distribute the straw evenly over the field. Even so in heavy stands it may be necessary to use a stubble mulcher with the plough or one-way to distribute the straw further. Regardless of the difficulties encountered every effort should be made to save the stubble and to hold the soil.

STRICT RULES CAN PREVENT DISEASE

The wisdom of Canada's stringent livestock import regulations under the Health of Animals Division of the Dominion Department of Agriculture is well illustrated by the misfortune which has befallen the farmers of Formosa. Rinderpest, one of the most destructive of animal diseases, has broken out in that island, and it is estimated that at least one-third of the water-buffalo and cattle may die unless the disease is brought under control.

Formosa has been free of the disease for many years and the recent outbreak is believed to have been brought to the island by a shipment of 250 pigs from nearby Hainan Island.

It is to prevent such a calamity that quarantine and other regulations are enforced at Ports of Entry into Canada, so that animals from other countries cannot introduce destructive cattle diseases into this country.

Fortunately various international groups in co-operation with FAO have rallied to attack the disease in Formosa. A specialist on rinderpest control is already on the spot to supervise the production of vaccines which will help in combating the outbreak. All the cattle in the infected area will be vaccinated, and movement of animals in and out of the area will be controlled to prevent spreading the disease.

Liza, the Negro cook answered the telephone one morning and a cheerful voice inquired: "What number is this?"

Liza was in no mood for trifling questions and said with some asperity: "You ought to know. You done called it."

C.V.O. NOTES

The regular meeting of the C.V.O. was held in the auditorium, Sunday evening with a comparatively small attendance.

Films were shown and a business meeting conducted. It seemed to be the general opinion that we should give $100.00 to help finish paying for the organ in the church. A motion was made and passed that the secretary send a cheque to Hignman and Co. before Christmas.

John MacKenzie, convenor for the "Talent Night" reported all plans under control.

Volunteers were asked for to attend a denary meeting in Vegreville next Sunday. There were six volunteers, weather permitting.

Discussion regarding a Christmas party followed but nothing definite decided.

Only One Case Of Active T.B. Is Found

T.B. Survey Gives Reassuring Results

Results on the recent chest survey carried on in this area have been received in Wainwright and are very encouraging both from the point of view of the number of examinations done and the few cases of active chest disease found. The whole result speaks well for the organizations behind the chest survey drive and for the general interest of the population of the area.

During the past few weeks many residents have received letters telling them of findings in their chests. As this has been a worry to many the situation has been clarified through an interview with local physicians. While the letters are significant they should not cause undue worry.

One type of letter requests the receiver to go to the Hospital for a chest X-ray. This only indicates that some abnormality has been found in the small pictures taken by the Mobile Clinic and that a full sized plate is required for closer study. It does not necessarily indicate active disease. This is shown in group 2 of the chart below.

A second type tells the recipient that he has an old healed tuberculosis scar in his chest. This is a very common condition as most adults have been in contact with T.B. at one time or another but have been able to overcome their infection and thus give themselves some degree of protection against further infection. (Group 3 and part of 4 below).

A third type of letter informs a person that he has some lung spots other than tuberculosis. This may be bronchitis, influenza infection or other more ordinary types of chest irritation. (Group 6 below).

In the table given below the letter A indicates Edmonton, the letter B Wainwright and the letter C Irma. Statistics for this part of the area are as follows:

| Total Number X-Rayed              | A | B  | C |
|-----------------------------------|---|----|---|
| 1 — Probable Active Tuberculosis  | 0 | 1  | 0 |
| 2 — Inactive Healed Tuberculosis  | 5 | 21 | 9 |
| 3 — Further Examination Requested | 3 | 15 | 7 |
| 4 — Pleurisy Active               | 0 | 9  | 0 |
| 5 — Pleurisy Inactive             | 2 | 11 | 4 |
| 6 — Non-Tuberculous Scars         | 2 | 14 | 3 |

It is hoped that all residents of this area will appreciate the fine service given to the public in this survey and support this service through the purchase of Christmas Seals from the T.B. Society. Regular visits of the Mobile

Unit to this district are planned and those who did not see fit to have an examination this time are strongly urged to protect themselves and their families by having one next time the Unit comes to town.

For the Season's Treating...

THE WEEK AT OTTAWA

completely "compliant" about fire prospects and precautions.

Both the captain and the ship's owners, Canada Steamship Lines Ltd., were held responsible for the fire because of "wrongful default" in their "failure" to provide adequate safety measures.

The company did not escape scot-free. It was penalized by being taxed for the transport department's expenses during the 17-day inquiry held at Toronto. These expenses were estimated at between $5,000 and $100,000.

But to Canadian passenger ships plying the country's inland waters and the passengers who will ride on them in the years ahead, the recommendations for tighter safety laws probably would have the most meaning.

Walls To Stop Fire

Major safeguard that the report recommended was installation of fire-resistant bulkheads on ships carrying more than a minimum of inland passengers. The bulkheads would be a form of fire-proof door or wall separating large passenger ships into sections so that it would make impossible the spread of a fire such as engulfed the Noronic.

There were other recommendations in the report for the maintenance of efficient and continuous fire patrols on ships, automatic fire-alarm and fire-detecting systems, crew training in fire fighting, fire sprinkler systems for all enclosed sections of ships and adequate means to get passengers off a ship in a hurry.

Trade Minister Howe said he would be "surprised" if early legislation to implement some of the recommendations did not follow the report.

The tabling of the report by Mr. Howe came on the day the tragedy of the Noronic. As it was tabling another chapter began to unfold in United States law courts. By week's end, a few survivors of the disaster and relatives of those who lost their lives had filed suit against Canada Steamship Lines Ltd., for damages totalling close to $100,000. Those filing suits represented only a handful of the passengers and relatives involved, leading to speculation that still more suits might be impending.

15-YEAR OLD GIRL HEARS FOR THE FIRST TIME

No one took much interest in Alice, a Metis girl who lived in Fort Vermilion, until, at the age of 15, they found she had T.B. They thought she was mentally backward, and no attempt had been made to teach her anything. At 15, she was more like a two-year-old.

Alice was whisked off to the sanatorium, where the teacher and the occupational therapist and the rehabilitation department became interested in her. She was found to be almost totally deaf—probably had been deaf since birth.

She represented a challenge that was irresistible, and a specially fitted hearing-aid was the first step in her rehabilitation. Christmas Seals provided the hearing-aid. Christmas Seals have given her occupational therapy, to which she takes readily, and Christmas Seals are going to help materially in educating Alice, who has in fact an active, promising intelligence.

After living fifteen years in almost complete silence, a whole new world has opened up for Alice, and all of it made possible by Christmas Seals. A little thing, compared with $600,000 free chest X-rays and all the other big things Christmas Seal dollars do, but a pretty big thing for Alice.

ESSAY CONTEST POPULAR

Nearly a thousand, classes in junior and senior high schools in Alberta are taking part in the Alberta Tuberculosis Association's essay contest on the subject "How we fight public health enemy number one—tuberculosis." It is announced by E. R. Baxter, director of X-ray surveys for the Association.

Mr. Baxter estimated that at least 25,000 pupils in Alberta Schools are studying tuberculosis and working on the essays as class projects. The contest ends on December 31st.

Prizes for the best essays will include radio sets, combination radio and record, playing machines, sports and other equipment as well as silver trophy cups. Judges will be Dr. A. H. Baker, superintendent of Central Alberta Sanatorium; Dr. W. H. Swift, deputy minister of education, and E. C. Anable, general secretary of the Alberta Teachers' Association.

Costs of the contest are being defrayed through Christmas Seal funds. The Honourable Ivan Gage, minister of education, has called the contest "a major educational project."

BRITAIN'S TEA CUP STILL WELL FILLED

LONDON—Britain continues to be a nation of tea drinkers. Tea consumption figures for the first eight months of this year totalled 270,385,000 pounds compared with 264,168,000 pounds in the same months of 1948.

Net imports were 255,564,000 pounds in the first nine months of the year compared with 267,381,000 pounds in the same period a year ago. Bulk of the imports come from India, Pakistan and Ceylon.

Tea is still rationed in Britain.

Our greatest asset

DOES NOT SHOW IN OUR BALANCE SHEET

Big family—the B of M staff... close to ten thousand men and women serving well over a million and a half Canadians in every walk of life from coast to coast.

These are the people who make the B of M—they are our "greatest asset" which no balance sheet can show.

"I am very proud of our staff," said Gordon R. Bell in his report as General Manager to shareholders of the B of M. "The year has been a heavy one in all sections of our business, and our staff have discharged their duties with untiring energy and efficiency..."

"But mere facts and figures do not, and perhaps cannot, convey to you the spirit and warmth of the services rendered day by day throughout the year, sometimes under most trying circumstances."

"I refer to the staff in many offices where alterations are under way, who carry on with a smile amidst the din of trip-hammers, and with carpenters, plasterers and others working at their trades."

"I refer to the men on the lonely outskirts of Labrador who have unfurled the banner of our institution in territories still undeveloped..."

"I could go on recounting other tales of a spirit in our institution that cannot be measured in dollars and cents, but which is, nevertheless, our greatest asset..."

I am very proud of our staff."

BREAST BLISTERS OF POULTRY

Keel burns, or breast blisters as they are more commonly but erroneously called, are cyst-like blennishes over the crest of the keel of poultry. They disfigure and, therefore, degrade a high proportion of otherwise excellent market carcasses, says S. Bird, Poultry Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. The cause for these blennishes is tied up with breeding for high egg production. It was urged in the past, without too much evidence in support, that laying birds must have deep bodies. However, it has been found that the body cavity is related to the size of the bird generally but not to keel depth, and that it is the latter which may give divergent depth to two otherwise equally large birds. When a deep keeled bird is roosting, the crest of its keel will rise about six inches, and this constant rubbing under pressure eventually produces a burn after the bird has attained a body weight of approximately 3½ pounds. Burns are, therefore, in full bloom between the ages of 10 to 30 weeks. After this age, all birds attain a greater fullness of breast, which prevents the keel from riding on the roost, and burns subside, so that in mature males, rare burns are rare and only the wrinkled scar-tissue remains. For the same reason, females which are rounder in breast conformation than males are rarely afflicted with these blennishes. Males that are deep enough to ride on their keel at an early age when this is still cartilaginous in nature, may instead of a burn acquire a crooked keel. For marketing purposes, one is almost as bad as the other. The obvious remedy is to select strains of birds with smaller body depth relative to their size which, automatically, will result in more rounded breasts and thus fewer burns. In the meantime, it would be advisable to substitute flat boards for the usual 1½ to 2 inch roosts, since this may somewhat alleviate the effect of the deep keels.

SHEEP RANGE LONELY B.C. INDUSTRY HURT

VANCOUVER—The lonely life of a British Columbia shepherd apparently doesn't appeal to modern youth—nor anyone else.
William Harrison of Kamloops, B.C. former president of the British Columbia Sheep Breeder's Association, here for a conference of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture, said in an interview that sheep-raising is on the decline because of a lack of help.
"Old shepherds are dying off. I don't know if the industry will carry on in B.C."
He said they had invited shepherds from as far afield as Spain, but none had arrived yet. He has given up his own range herd because he "can't get around so well."
He added that it was unfortunate the industry should be going downhill now because "prices have never been better and we can sell everything we have in wool and meat."

SOME WILL REMEMBER 1949 primarily as the year in which it became general knowledge that at least two nations now possessed the "secret" of the atomic bomb—in which, therefore, the atomic age really began. Others may prefer to remember it as the year in which a better recognition that conciliation and compromise are essential to a secure peace began to spread through the minds of people everywhere.

Whether or not the diffusion of atomic knowledge will end only with war and destruction for all nations, or will be used for the benefit of mankind, is a question of tremendous social, political and historic significance. Also significant, however, is the fact that, during 1949, the peoples and representatives of 50 United Nations began working toward a fuller realization of the ideals proclaimed in the unprecedented Universal Declaration of Human Rights.
In many ways 1949 was a year of troubles and of fear and worry, like the other years since World War II ended in 1945. But several events and trends made 1949 a more hopeful year than any of the previous three.

Not only was world peace maintained, but several international conflicts, each capable of setting off a major war, were effectively settled, or at least eased, during 1949. Among such peaceful adjustments were the settlement of the Berlin deadlock, announced from United Nations headquarters in May; the acceptance of the new Republic of Israel as a full member of the world community; the creation of a new and sovereign United States of Indonesia, after mediation by U.N.; the cease-fire agreement effected under U.N. auspices between India and Pakistan in the dispute in Kashmir; and action on the future of the former Italian colonies by the U.N. General Assembly.

Some day, the year 1949 may be regarded as the beginning of a new era. It could be an era of growing fear and tension—ultimately, perhaps, leading to catastrophe—or an era of increasing international cooperation in all fields of human concern. Whichever it is, the successes or failures of the United Nations will have a lot to do with it, for U.N., and its Specialized Agencies, even during 1949, were already involved in nearly every major international action, event or decision.

The devaluation of the British pound and subsequent devaluation of 26 other currencies, for example, was an event which reflected significant changes in the traditional patterns of world trade. But these devaluations were effected in agreement with a U.N.-affiliated specialized agency, the International Monetary Fund.

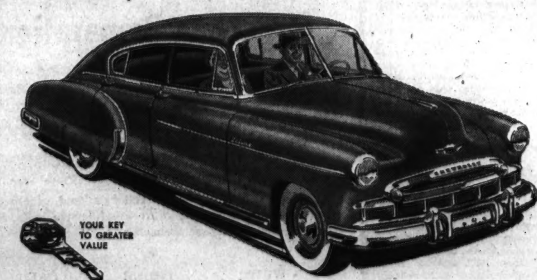

In the political field, one of the major events was the conflict between Yugoslavia, itself a Communist state, and the Soviet Union. But one of the most intense moments in this controversy was played before the U.N. General Assembly in New York, when Yugoslavia was elected to the Security Council over Soviet opposition. The Chinese Civil War, directly affecting about one-fifth of the human race, was also brought to U.N. when representatives of China's Nationalist government charged the U.S.S.R. with having aided the Chinese Communist armies.

The year was also the one in which the Atlantic Pact was signed—a pact which, its members declared, in debates at U.N., was purely defensive and would strengthen collective security in conformity with the U.N. Charter, while its opponents denounced the treaty as an aggressive military alliance in violation of the Charter.

Hunger, want and social insecurity were prevalent in 1949 in most of the inhabited areas of the globe, just as they always have been. But here again, U.N. itself and the UN Specialized Agencies were busily at work, planning a world-wide program of technical assistance to under-developed areas, adopted in the autumn by the U.N. General Assembly; the establishment of an International Clearing House for such commodities as food; and a series of loans from the International Bank to aid various nations on long-range projects of economic development.

Thus a review of the major international events of the year becomes, almost automatically, a review of events under the United Nations flag, mirroring the extent to which the world's hope for peace and a better life are increasingly becoming dependent upon a flourishing United Nations.

FARM CARE PAYS, ALBERTA HONORS FIVE BEST HOMES
Edmonton—Five families in Alberta have been picked as ideal farm groups in a government program to promote good farming and interest youth in agriculture.

The program, started this year by the Alberta department of agriculture, carries a $10,000 award, known as Master Farm Family Awards, will be made yearly to a family in each of the province's five soil regions.

The first winners under the new program are J. G. Dussault of Vimy, W. J. Edgar of Inisfail, L. R. Jensen of Magrath, J. F. Melnick of Warwick and J. L. Paquette of Donnelly.
All five, picked by three boards, are engaged in mixed farming on lands ranging in size from Mr. Dussault's 64 acres to 30 miles north of Edmonton to Mr. Edgar's 2,000 acres, about 30 miles north of Calgary.

Master Farmers are active in community affairs, serving in local co-operatives, school boards, town councils or service clubs. Two, Mr. Jensen and Mr. Paquette, raise sheep and are also members of the Alberta Sheep Breeder's Association.

Although the award winners are similar in being good farmers and active in community life, their racial origins are mixed. Mr. Dussault and Mr. Paquette are French-Canadians while Mr. Edgar is Scottish, Mr. Jensen is Danish, and Mr. Melnick is Ukrainian. At 45, Mr. Jensen and Mr. Melnick are the youngest heads of Master Farm Families. Mr. Edgar and Mr. Dussault are 53 while Mr. Paquette is 60.

Won World Record
This is not the first time the Jensen's Happy Valley Farm in southern Alberta, has scored a "first." Mr. Jensen's father conducted the first large scale wheat harvest there. Using 16 horse-drawn binders, 1,600 acres of ripe wheat were harvested to set a world's record of 54.5 bushels an acre. Mr. Jensen's father, Christian, now retired and living in Nanaimo, B.C.,

CROP SURPLUSES: With fine harvests came surpluses of "surpluses" in the "dollar area," because "soft currency" nations lack exchange for food imports. To help eliminate "surpluses" while millions go hungry, the U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization proposed a unique, new International Commodity Clearing House.

SURE SAFETY
No child is safe from the threat of diphtheria and whooping cough unless he has been immunized. No known cases exist where a child who has been immunized died of these diseases. Protect your children from "the baby-killers." Immunization is free, simple and painless. You can't afford not to have your children immunized. It is the only safe way.

Mr.—"You sure made a poor job of painting this door."
Mrs.—"Well, you declared this morning that it needed painting badly!"

He has farmed in the Warwick district. The Paquette family have been on their land for 33 years. Mr. Paquette raises pure bred Suffolk Sheep and Yorkshire pigs which have won him 15 ribbons at various fairs.

The bridesmaid, Miss Elizabeth Dorland, sister of the groom, wore a navy blue gabardine suit with a corsage of yellow roses.

Mr. Miles Dorland supported his brother as best man.

A reception to friends and relatives was held at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. Dorland.

To receive Mrs. P. E. Mahoney were a Jersey dress of floral design with black accessories and a corsage of pink and yellow roses.

Edgerton Notes

The last meeting of the Edgerton Club was held on Dec. 8th. The first business under discussion was the Christmas dance which was planned to hold on December 12th.

The President chose three committees to attend to the lunch, program and decorating for this dance. The committees are as follows:

Lunch—Doris Miles, Dorcas Maughan, Kay Johnson.

Program—Ann Spornitz, Janet Norden, Decorative—Dick Olson, Connie Harkness, Peggy Hallett.

Two ping-pong tournaments have been completed and the third is under way. In the first tournament, Jo Spornitz and Edward House were the winners. In the second Irene Kimball and Bob Ramsey came out on top.

RATS DESTROY FOOD MENACE HEALTH

Any season is an open one on rats. The common brown or Norway rat is a prolific breeder and an adult eats about an ounce of food a day.

Rats eat much that is unfit for human food, but unfortunately they don't stop there. They eat practically anything used as food for humans and livestock—except hay. Worse, they contaminate food and make it unfit for human consumption with consequent loss to producers.

Besides enormous destruction to food, the brown rat is a serious menace to public health. It is a carrier of bubonic plague, one of the most devastating of human diseases. Typhus fever is harboured by rats, and they can also be carriers of trichinosis.

The extermination of rats is complicated because most suitable poison baits used in the destruction are also extremely dangerous to other animals and to humans. With reasonable care, however, poison baits can be used with good results.

A good method and a more permanent one is to make buildings rat-proof. Old wooden buildings with ill-fitting doors and windows are an invitation to rats. Concrete is one of the best rat proof materials for foundations and around spaces where drain and other pipes lead out of a building. Doors should be bound with sheet metal, and ventilators and basement windows should be covered with wire netting. Keeping rats out is easier than driving them out.

A regular meeting of the Edgerton Sub-Local A.T.A. was held at Edgerton School on Saturday, Dec. 2nd, 1949 at 2:00 p.m. with the majority of teachers present.

The meeting was called to order by the President, Mr. Pierre Touchette. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the Secretary, Mr. John Woloshyn.

Mr. C. Welsh gave an interesting and informative report on the regional meeting attended by the representatives of several school divisions.

This meeting was held at Hardisty, Nov. 19, 1949. Your representatives: Mr. C. Welsh and Mr. John Woloshyn were present. Matters relating to salary schedules, the restoration of the municipal grants which were cut last year, and the question of the certification of teachers were fully discussed.

A resolution on the Home and School Association was led by Mrs. Relehu with valuable contributions provided by Mrs. McLean and Mr. E. Carter. It was decided to approach the parents of Edgerton and district regarding their views on the formation of this parent-teacher organization.

Following the meeting, a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Relehu and Mrs. McLean.

We wish to congratulate the C.O.L.T. girls and all those who helped on their splendid concert on Wed. Dec. 7, 1949 "Well done girls."
